DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chu (US Patent No 6,291,180).

Chu teaches a method and apparatus as claimed. See entire document, especially Figures 2, 7, 8, 9 and the related description and disclosure at column 9, line 64 – column 10, line 21, column 19, lines 25-43, column 20, line 20 – column 22, line 6.

The method comprises washing the substrates, which were hybridized with a washing solution while applying ultrasound with the claimed frequency and power.

The apparatus of Chu has the claimed structure.

3. Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ogura et al (US 2003/0022246).

Ogura et al teach a method and an apparatus as claimed. See entire document, especially Figure 22 and the related description and disclosure at paragraphs [0035-0053] and [0465-0548].

The method comprises washing the substrates, which were hybridized with a washing solution while applying ultrasound with the claimed frequency.

The apparatus of Chu has the claimed structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).
6. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
7. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogura et al in view of Chu.

Ogura et al do not specifically recite the power of the ultrasonic wave generator. However, applied power of the cleaning enhancement is a result effective variable.

It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time the invention was made to find an optimum value for the power by routine experimentation in order to enhance the process depending from the size of the apparatus.

Moreover, Chu teaches the claimed power as known for cleaning hybridized substrates. It would have been obvious to an ordinary artisan at the time the invention was made to use the known power recited by Chu in the method of Ogura et al because Chu teaches such power for cleaning hybridized substrates.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Patent documents 5085982, 5374522 and 6287850 are cited with respect to cleaning methods and apparatuses.
